

About the National Training Awards

Now in their 25th year, the National Training Awards (NTAs) recognise and celebrate Investors in People accredited organisations that have delivered outstanding organisational benefits by directly linking the training needs of their people to the business needs of their organisation.

Entering the Awards offers Investors in People accredited organisations the opportunity to continually build on their successful training programmes, gaining public recognition for achieving success through developing their people year on year. Entrants will compete to be named the 'best of the best' on a regional and national level.

Winning an Award can directly impact on an organisation's success. 40% of recent winners have seen real bottom line benefits as a result of winning with one in five stating that they had seen an increase in the number of contracts secured following their Award win. One in three said that their organisations had become more efficient.

The NTA Annual Ceremony will this year form part of the world's largest international skills competition – WorldSkills London 2011 – where young people from across the globe will compete to become the 'best of the best' in more than 40 skills. This unique event will enable NTA Winners to celebrate their success on an international platform, demonstrating their commitment to developing skills and raising standards in workplace learning.

Why enter?

An Award with real return*

40% of National Training Award winners have seen real bottom line benefits as a result of winning, resulting in new contracts, increased turnover and the acquisition of new clients.

Shining examples

68% of winners found that the Award has provided them with positive PR coverage. It has not only provided them with external recognition but has enhanced their reputation.

Outstanding benefits

Encompasses and motivates all

65% of winners found that a key benefit resulting from their NTA win was increased staff morale and motivation, leading to staff furthering their own professional development.

Better staff, better business

65% of National Training Awards winners saw increased internal recognition of the importance of training as a result of their win.

How to enter

5 simple steps:

- Visit nationaltrainingawards.com/2011
- Review the entry form and award requirements
- Download the guidance booklet, for additional help
- Register to attend a free NTA information seminar
- Submit your entry online by 5pm, Friday 20 May 2011

* Based on the responses from the 2009 Winners Survey

10 things to know

- 1 The Awards are free to enter and open to organisations who have been accredited or reaccredited with Investors in People since 31 October 2008.
- 2 Entry deadline is 5pm on Friday 20 May 2011.
- 3 The Awards are relevant to employers of all sizes and from all sectors. They encompass all training and learning programmes from formal qualifications to informal learning and coaching.
- 4 The rigorous judging and assessment process gives you a chance to compete for, and be publically recognised as, the 'NTA Winner of the Year'.
- 5 The Judges are looking for a clear story about how training has created a positive impact.
- 6 All shortlisted entries will attend an NTA Entry Review Panel in their region, where their entry will be reviewed by a group of Judges.
- 7 Only one award will be presented in each category per region.
- 8 All winners are invited to celebrate their success at the National Training Awards Ceremony during WorldSkills London 2011 at ExCeL, where the 'Winners of the Year' will be announced.
- 9 You don't have to win an award to get something out of entering. Free written feedback is given on all entries to assist you with your future development plans.
- 10 For further support visit nationaltrainingawards.com/2011

Get in touch

For more information about the National Training Awards please contact us:

T 0800 0191 475

E info@nationaltrainingawards.com

W nationaltrainingawards.com/2011

Deadline

The closing date for entries is 5pm, Friday 20 May 2011

To find out how you can become Investors in People accredited contact:

T 020 7881 8966

E info@investorsinpeople.co.uk

W investorsinpeople.co.uk

Skills Funding Agency | Department for Business Innovation & Skills

Supported by

The Award Categories

Macro employer (1000+ employees)

Large employer (250-999 employees)

Medium employer (50-249 employees)

Small employer (up to 49 employees)

[Organisations with 20 or less employees are not required to be Investors in People accredited to enter the Awards]

Free Information Seminars

To find out how your organisation could benefit by entering an Award and receive useful tips on entering and winning, register today to attend a free information seminar near you.

www.nationaltrainingawards.com/informationseminars

National Training Awards 2011

Outshine the competition - enter today

In association with

